C.I.T. Outline

The C.I.T. program is a program that is designed for young people who are interested in becoming leaders, but require a place to gain experience and knowledge in leadership skills. They will be expected to assist in running different games and activities, leading up to the point of supervising a game/activity on their own. They will be taught how to plan and carry out a Bible Study, lead a child to Christ, have their own personal quiet time and much more.

A C.I.T. will not be left in complete responsibility of a group of campers, or left to discipline a camper. His/her role is strictly to assist in the program so that he/she may see and understand how our program operates, to develop new skills and learn how to apply them.

A C.I.T. is expected to be a role model for the campers, putting positive energy and life into the program. It is their responsibility to assist the counselors and encourage campers. If they see a particular camper that is having a difficult time fitting into the program, they are expected to act like a big brother or sister to that camper, to help them to build friendships in the camp and feel accepted into the program.

To assist in their training, he/she will be pulled out of the program to receive individual training and instruction (a minimum of twice per week). They will be asked to complete daily observation and learning activities. This data will be used for discussion during their sessions with their peers and C.I.T. Director
